MEMBERS OF THE OVERSEAS PRESS CLUB HAVE BEEN SENT INVITATIONS to the convocation of the eleventh award of the Maria Moors Cabot Prizes for the Advancement of International Friendship in the Americas at the Low Memorial Library on Friday, November 11th, at 4 P. M. Tea and a reception will follow the ceremony.

KEYES BEECH of the Chicago Daily News bureau in Tokyo reports that Chinese Communist censorship has driven several correspondents to Tokyo, among them Peper Martin of the Overseas News Agency, who's taken up residence up with wife, Lee, and child. Recent visitors to Tokyo on the Pan-American junket included CLARK LEE and Leonard Lyons. It was LEE's first trip to Japan since the early days of the occupation. BEECH himself is back in Tokyo after two months in the States.

DARRELL BERRIGAN of the Satevepost has abandoned Hongkong for Southeast Asia after living with some Chinese pirates. Reports from correspondents out there tell of ABC correspondent Larry Tighe, now a foreign trader, who is reputed to be trying to do business with the Chinese Communists. NOTE... The South Korean republic is looking for a new public relations man??????????

"OVERSEAS PRESS CLUB" TELEVISION SHOW for Sunday, November 13, on CBS, Channel 2 from 5 to 5:30 P.M. will discuss the question "Should We Stop Dismantling in Germany?" LOUIS LOCHNER will be the emcee; Leon Levine the producer and Frank Shaffner the director. The three protagonists will be John Elliott, former Berlin correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune, rejoined New York staff now after serving two years with General Clay as political advisor; GEORGE KENT, veteran Reader's Digest roving editor and former European correspondent for ED; MAURICE CARRIE, New York staff of the Agence France-Presse.

This show is now being handled by an enlarged television committee, who plan to meet weekly in the clubrooms at 5:30 P.M.

BOB CONSIDINE, former President, presided at the OPC luncheon at the Hotel Savoy-Plaza on October 26th when a new field of interviews was explored. With the aid of the New York Telephone Company, A. T. & T. and I. T. and T., a two way conversation was held between the members of the OPC and Adhemar Pereira De Barros, Governor of Sao Paulo, Brazil. From the New York end, BOB CONSIDINE; William Randolph Hearst, Jr., Dave Wesley of ONA and HAL F. LEE, secretary of the forthcoming Inter-American Press Congress, talked to the group at Sao Paulo. Then the Overseas Press Club heard De Barros very clearly here in his speech urging hemisphere cooperation and declaring his pride in the close links between the United States and Brazil. Mr. E. R. Jacob, vice president of the I. T. and T. was also present.

CONSIDINE said that this new field of interviewing by telephone for a group of correspondents opened up for the OPC the way to talking with heads of foreign governments at times of crises and getting direct answers to questions uppermost in the minds of newspapermen here. Dave Wesley said that now more than ever the United States should maintain closer relations with the 21 republics of Latin America as we all will stand or fall together. He noted that our neighbors to the south are conscious of the fact that the interest of the U.S. seems to be glued to Europe and in Asia but not toward Latin America.

The questions following the speeches could be heard in Sao Paulo, but the answers could not be gotten clearly here in New York. CONSIDINE remarked that possibly the waves were being jammed at Rio de Janeiro by the opposition now incumbent in office down there.

At the informal bull session on November 2nd at Rosoff's, members had a chance to hear Boyan Chounakoff, editor of Free and Independent Bulgaria, and GABE PRESSMAN of the New York World Telegram on the trials of Cardinal Mindzenty of Hungary and the protestants of Bulgaria. Guest of ERNIE POPE was Baron Andre De Salsa, author of the new book "Touring Italy in 1950".
